THE ELECTION.

A Clean Sweep for the Republicans.

Attempts to Use the "Sack" by Amateur Boodlers.

at 6 o'clock a.m. It was quite chilly, but the inspectors and judges were full of enthusiasm, and managed to keep warm during a short wait while the early risers were getting their breakfast. Before 7 o'clock laborers and numerous other early risers, who live near the voting places, flocked around the polls on their way to work, and for a short time the officers of the election were kept quite busy. After this thinas were a little quiet until 9 o'clock, when voting began in earnest, and a continued string of votes was poured into the principal bailot-boxes until the polls were declared closed. Taken all in all, it was one of the most quiet elections ever held in Los Angeles. The Times exposure of the "queer" ways of the boodle gang had a perceptible effect. The boodlers were ready for work bright and early, and almost every ballot-box in the cisy would have been stuffed had it not been for the good work done by the detectives who were employed by the Republican managers. The boodle gang were "spotted" early in the day, and they were "spotted" early in the day, and they were "spotted" early in the day, and they were "spatewed" so closely that they could do but little except in some of the tough localities.

The cattle who wanted to be paid all the

The cattle who wanted to be paid all the way from 50 cents to $2.50 apiece for their votes, hung around the polling places where they were to vote, all morning, and when the "sack" did not show up they became very restless, and rushed about town like mad. They could not understand why the Democrats did not come up, and the go-betweens were jumped on in a most brulal manner.

tweens were jumped on in a most brutal manner.

Several consultations were held and it was decided to make the money, that was forced from the gamblers and prostitutes, go as far as possible in the tough wards, where it would be hard to detect the work. The most of this money was thrown away for the reason hat the "boodlers" were rathed and they dished out money to all kinds of people and the result is that money was paid to a lot of cattle who would have votted their way anyhow.

One of the funniest things that ever happened on an election day occurred in one of the southern precincts. It proves two things: One, that the Democrats were spending money for votes, and the other that they placed their "boodle" in the hands of a set of foots.

A well-knews posteman had just driven up to his polling these and was just alighting from his buggy, when a Democratic striker stepped up in front of him and said: "Here is a Democratic ticket, and there's

"Here is a Democratic ticket, and there's said:

"Here is a Democratic ticket, and there's 50 cents in it if you will vote it."

It is needless to say that the gentleman did not accept the ticket or money. Had he been a slouch instead of a well-dressed gentleman there might have been some excuse for the mistake.

tleman there might have been some excuse for the mistake.

It was learned quite early in the afternoon that we coffee sacks had been carted into the big building on the northwest corner of Second and Spring streets. The prominent candidate for the Mossbacks had made up his mind to do a little Buckley business on his own account, and he made a perfect botch of it, for the coffee sacks had hardly landed in his rooms when one of the ny Republican managers saw the "racket," and knowing the prominent candidate theroughly, he made up his mind to play a joke on him, and hurt the Democratic cause at the same time. He looked up about 150 of his crowd and said to them:

"Boys, I know where you can get into a read."

joke on him, and nurt the Democratic cause at the same time. He looked up about 150 of his crowd and said to them:

"Boys, I know where you can get into a Democratic sack, and I want you to go and lighten it as much as possible. It is in the hands of suckers, and you can work them for all that is out, and then go to your posts and do your duty."

In less than five minutes the stairways of the big building were crowded, and good Democratic dollars were clicking into Republican pockets. This simply shows that the Democratic managers were thoroughly demoralized, and threw their money away.

At the Temple-street engine-house polis, Officer Oollins was very "fresh," taking it upon himself to insult a gentleman who was proceeding to deposit his bailot in a quiet manner. On complaint of his rowdy-ish conduct, he was recalled from the polls and reprimanded.

A Man Caught in Another Man's Kitchen at Midnight.
This morning about 1 o'clock the wife of
B. A. Stephens, who resides at No. 339
South Septembers. South Spring street, was awakened by a noise in the kitchen, and seeing a man in the room awoke her husband, who caught the introder outside as he was making off.

Mr. Stephens called Mr. Clarke, who occupies the house with him, who held a pistol at the man's head, while Stephens went through his pockets and disarmed him of a knife. He then went back in the house to get his coat, then went back in the house to get his coat, leaving the man in charge of Clarke, when he broke away and ran across the street, Stephens firing one shot at him. The man disappeared in No. 344, kept by Miss Weid, when Stephens came to the station and Officers Leverich, Sanchez and Jackson were sent with him to catch the man, who was discovered in his room, lying full dressed on a cot, with a hig pole-ax in his hand. He was taken into custody and brought to the station, where he gave the name of Phil Hanley, and was locked up on a charge of burglary. Hanley is a stone-cutter, and has lived in this city for some years. He was under the influence of liquor, and said that he had got into the house by mistake. He said that he formerly lived next door to the house where he was caught, and blundered in by mistake. When he saw the lady he knew that he was in the wreng place, and made a motion to her to keep quiet, as he would leave, when she woke her husband, and he was caught. He did not want to be caught, when he ran away and a man fired or shot at him. He disclaims any intention of burglary. Another man was also arrested, but he was released, as it was shown that he knew nothing about the affair. leaving the man in charge of Clarke, when

A Speculator's "nicide."

New York, Feb. 21.—John Dudley Kennedy committed suicide at the Putnam House this afternoon by polson. He has been involved, it is said, in tegal troubles with the banking firm of Fish & Hatch over the sum of $23,000, which he paid for 300 shares of Central Pacific stock. It was guaranteed that the stock would go up to 100, but it did not. It fell instead, and Kennedy lost his money.

OARL BROWNE CAUGHT IN HIS OWN SNARE.

How He Tried to Blackmail Architect Haas Out of $50 and Got Neatly Taken In-What He Was Willing to Publish.

That abortion of a publication, "The Cactus," under the blackmailing methods of Carl Browne, has been a source of anyonance to the business men of Los Angeles. It is so well known by this time what pable tricks it resorts to in order that it may extort money for the most fear-ful and hopelessly bad pictures and cartoo and appelessly bad pictures and car-toons, that business men will soon allow it to expire of inanition. There have pos-sibly been some illustrated newspapers which combined more stupendous lack of artistic instinct and horrible execution than "The Cactus," but it is very doubtful.
There certainly have never been any which were more stupidly vulgar, or exhibited a

The instance which has just trans pired in connection with Architect Haas is as pertinent an illustration of the mendacity of Carl Browne as is necessary for calling the attention of citizens to the wisdom of entertaining no proposition from him. It presents the unartistic Browne in a most ridiculous light, and is a situation out of which he would like to squirm, if he ridiculous light, and is, a situation ont of which he would like to squirm, if he could.

A few days ago, when the attention of the Council was called to certain cracks in the new City Hall, the ubiquitous beatsent one of his strikers to Architect Haas and talked a "write-up" to him and the publication of a picture of the building in the Cactus. He offered to do it up in great style, and show the public that the building was all right for $50.

A pointed intimation was given that, if the $50 was not forthcoming, some "burning up" would have to be done.

Mr. Haas was at first indignent, and told the striker that any attack that the Cactus might make upon him or his work would be considered in the nature of a compliment. Later, however, in talking the matter over with a friend, Mr. Haas was advised to draw the blackmailler on and get him committed in writing, to the end that his blackmailing scheme might be proved against him. The striker paid a second visit to Mr. Haas, when the architect talked a little more amiably, without, however, committing himself to any proposition, and, as a result of the negotiations, he secured the following sketch of an article and agreement, both in Brown's chirography:

An opinion by the Cactus, big cry and little wool—"One or two cracks in the pressed brick work has been discovered in the pressed brick w and builder. Hanlon, under the supervison of Architect S. I. Hass. Such cracks are the rule rather than the exception in such places under like conditions. The cracks were watched by both the architect and builder, and no attempt to conceal, for the reason that the cracks do not extend into the solid masonry of the building. At the proper time the pressed brick will be removed and others substituted, and then the new City hall, so far as that defect is concerned, will be as solid as any in the city. The Cactus has made a thorough investigation, and gives on this page a sketch of the Front (?) street elevation of the building as it now appears. The tower, of course, is not shown as is contemplated, nor is any attempt given to make it as ornate or as fine as the building really shows for itselt, as all work has been suspended (owing to the carping of rival contractors and architects), as it should be by the Council, until the defect is experted on and pronounced as it is —nothing serious. The Council should go ahead on the architect's professional opinion, that it is all right.

"Since the above was written we learn that the defect has been remedied."

THE AGREEMENT.

"Los Angeles (Cal.), Feb. 8, 1889.
"I hereby agree to publish the above article in the Cactus February 9, 1889, in consideration of a certain contract, signed this day by—, which contract is void if the above article is not printed exactly as the above, a proof of which is to be approved by Mr. 8, L. Haas, and made a part of said contract to ne.

said contract to me.
"Both contracts to be surrendered after
ablication. CARL BROWNE,
"Proprietor Los Angeles Cactus."

"Proprietor Los Angeles Cactus."

TRYING TO CRAWL OUT.

Mr. Haas, after remewed consultation with friends, concluded that the $50 opinion of the Cactus was too expensive a luxuury for him, and informed the voluble Carl that he had concluded not to invoke the unbuyable indorsement of the Cactus upon his work. Carl thereupon wanted his draft of the article and agreement back. He sent the following little note to Mr. Haas:

"Mr. Haas: Be kind enough to return those specifications and contract, signed by me, or leave them in your office with instructions for the office boy to give them to my man, Mr. Rye.

CARL Browne."

Mr. Haas kept the interesting documents, however, and intends to file them among his archives as illustrative of the prostitution of the press to base purposes.

Browne had dailled so long over the mater, however, in hopes of making the $50 strike that he was unable to put his lamphlack publication to press on the 9th inst. (Saturday), and it was not issued until Sunday forenoon, the 10th.

The only comment necessary upon the transaction is the manner in which Browne illustrates his contemptible, disregard of decency, after doing a dirty piece of business by the remarks he made upon the affair in the last issue of the Cactus.

The following quotation shows how he turns upon those whom a minute before he has fawned upon and points the moral tast the Cactus is not only a "botch" in workmanship, but a paper that would levy blackmall if it could, and is therefore to be avoided as one would avoid a pole-cat.

"The rise an architect in this city by the TRYING TO CRAWL OUT.

"A SWIFT WITNESS—A JACKASS. "There is an architect in this city by the ne of Haas, and of all others he is the chiefest jack-ass.

name of Haas, and of all others he is the chiefest jack-ass.

"Why?

"Well, he has Carl Browne's signature to a document he thinks—and such 'astute' minds as Heliman and Otis, Humphreys & Co., no doubt hug to their souis—if they have any—is big enough and criminal enough to convict the said Carl Browne of all the crimes in the calendar. "Mr. Browne desires to say in conclusion after convincing the public of how a small man can sometimes get into print, even if only as a jackass, that he is not here for his health, that he puts things in the Cactus for money, the same as other papers—that engravings, like whisky, cost money. But no amount of money and no influence can get an engraving into the Cactus that is not on the side of the oppressed; that is not on the side of liberality; that is not on the side of houest labor as against graspling capital and low down 'rotten rings.'

A LIVELY TILT.

Judge Cheney "Climbs the Neck" of Mr. Hardesty. There was a very lively tilt in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court yesterday after-noon, between Judge Cheney and Assistant District Attorney Hardesty, during the Pat Givens trial, which for a time looked as though it would result in an open rupture between the two gentlemen. Metzler was on the stand, and during the direct examination was asked a question

Metzler was on the stand, and during the direct examination was asked a question, which he answered without objection. On the cross-examination Mr. Hardesty asked the witness the same question, when counsel for the defense objected, whi ch objection was sustained by Judge Cheney. Mr. Hardesty appeared to be considerbly surprised at this action of the Judge, and somewhat annoyed, and showed his feeling by giving vent to several significant grunts. He repeated this mark of disapproval, when Judge Cheney, who was noticed to grow very restive under the prosecuting attorney's actions, sudenly turned upon him and told him that it had to stop, and that he did not propose to officers. He wished Mr. Hardesty to anderstand that he would make his ruilings, and either sustain or overrule objections as he saw fit, and he proposed to do this without criticism from the District Attorney or any one else. This was not the first time, he said, that Mr. Hardesty had ventured to criticise the action of the Court, and if the Insult was repeated he should order the offending official out of the courtroom, never to return. He thought that the least the District Attorney could do would be to apoligize to the Court. Mr. Hardesty heard the Judge through, when he jumped to his feet and said that, as no disrespect had been intended to the Court, and would not doe. There was some further talk between the Judge and attorney, when the matter was dropped and the trial of the case was proceeded with, but it was plain to see that Mr. Hardesty felt vory sore over the scoring he had received, while Judge Cheney's temper had not been improved by the bout.

The occasion to which Judge Cheney alluded in his remarks was probably during the Lanigan murder trial, when His Honor felt impelied to frequently reprimand Mr. Hardesty for persistently disobeying the Court's instructions, and finally apologized to one of the officers of the court (meaning Mr. Hardesty), and at the same time excusinr the witness from further attendance on the court.

THE WOMAN'S SIDE.

Mrs. Hoffman Says Her Husband is a Brute. Mrs. A. F. Hoffman has written a long letter to THE TIMES, giving her side of the trouble with her husband, an account of which was published on Monday last. Mrs. Hoffman denies as "cruel and wicked false-hoods" her husband's statements concerning her, and says that she is the injured party. She denies that she ever got drunk, but says that Hoffman not only got drunk, but stayed out late at night, besides treating her in a brutal and inhuman manner. She says that she was never married before she married him, and knows no one in San Francisco by the name of Jones, or any one else, and that she never tried to marry him, but that he imposed on her by telling her he was prosperous and able to support her, whereas the opposite was the case. Mrs. Hoffman further claims that her health was ruined by her husband's cruelty and neglect, and that she has been under the physician's care ever since she left him. She says that when it comes to a divorce she will have something to say as ing her, and says that she is the injured

Duplicate Numbers.

There is a good deal of complaint among reputable hack-owners about the practice of certain unscrupulous persons using duplicate numbers for their vehicles, the reason for which is twofold. In the first place, two vehicles are run by the payment of one license; that is, if a man has two hacks, he uses one number, and by running one at night and the other during the day, escapes paying one license, and defrauds the city to that extent. Then, again, if one of these fellows is complained against and the number of the hack is taken, the other driver and vehicle shows up, and, as they cannot be identified, the passenger thinks he must have made a mistake, and the matter is dropped. The matter is to be looked into by the police. reason for which is twofold. In the first

Mr. Mulholland's principal business down. here from Inyo has at last leaked out. It was given out that the gentleman was here for the express purpose of exhibiting the products of his county in the rooms of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and everybody believed it, but his scheme is very much larger than that of displaying fine fruit, and if he is successful both his own county and Los Angeles county will be greatly benefited.

It will be remembered that some years ago the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad Company was organized, and it was fully determined to run a line into Owens Valley at once, but one of the principal movers met with reverses in his financical operations, and the scheme went under. Since then the prytion of the road that was built has been operated between Los Angeles and Santa Monica. The Inyo county people had about given up all hopes of ever getting direct communication with Los Angeles, when it was decided to send Mr. Mulholland to this city with instructions to do all in his power to induce the people of this city to assist the citizens of Inyo county in their project to connect the two sections by rall. If he fails his people will then endeavor to push the Utah and Nevada road, which has been completed to the lower end of Owen Lake, to Mojave. To do this they will have to build only 120 miles of road, but Mr. Mulholland would much rather see the old Los Angeles and Independence road completed. He has not met with much success as yet, but he is confident that he will not fall.

Another one of "Pap" Gardner's popular excursions over the Santa Fe short line to Coronado Beach will leave the First-street depot tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. There will be a grand ball at Hotel del Coronado Saturday evening, and a general good time is promised all who attend.

Business is evidently not what it is cracked up to be in San Francisco. The N.C.B. papers and immigration agents have been swearing that their metropolis is crowded with visitors, but, according to the San Francisco Cail, thin sin Fractice Odit, finings are not half says:

"The east-bound freight statement of the Southern Pacific for the month of January shows a falling off of 10,000,000 pounds in comparison with the total of January, 1885. The items in which the reduction is mainly appreciable are canned goods, dried fruit and beans. Representations have also been made to W. A. Bissell of the Atlantic and Pacific and to the officials of the Union Pacific on the subject. Shippers contend that the rate ought to be 75 cents, at which figure they think they can compete with figure they think they can compete with the Maryland producers. It is thought that Chairman Leeds will take the matter up at an early date, and probably the shippers will secure the desired relief."

The scalpers of this city are working along in a mighty bad row of stumps at the present time on account of the viscous dight that has been made against them daring the past few months. Some six maths ago there were about ten scalpers' office in the city, and they all seemed to be doing a good business, but wonderful change has come over them. A number of their offices have been closed up, and even those who keep up appearances do not show up as slick and saucy as they used to.

NATIONAL CLASSIFICATION.

NATIONAL CLASSIFICATION. A special to the Globe-Democrat Chicago says: The Joint Classific Committee began today what may prove an eight or ten days' session. The object of the meeting was to adopt a uniform classification of all articles for all roads in the United States. Every freight association in the country is represented by two members, and it is thought that there will be little friction in the adoption of the uniform classification. The day was given to general discussion, which showed a general desire for the proposed action.

THRILLING EPISODE.

How Two Officers Lass'ed a Sup-posed Mad Dog.

Mounted Police Officers Del Valle and Sanchez last evening covered themselves with glory, and at the same time gave one with glory, and at the same time gave one of the best exhibitions of horsemanship ever given in the State. A telephone message was received at the station from Capar Behrendt, at No. 118 West Fourth street, saying that there was a mad dog loose in the yard, and causing a panic in the neighborhood. The officers armed themselves with 40-foot ristas and started for the field of action. Arriving at the yard a diminutive white terrier about six incheanigh by a foot long was discovered frantically chasing its tail, with its tengue hanging-out, and about 200 women and children taking in the circus from the surrounding fences and windows. It was a wildly exiting scene, but the brave officers were not afraid. With a wild yell they put spurs to their theroughbred broncos and started in pursuit, determined to capture the pup of die in the attempt. Del Valle threw-his rope first, and caught the dog by the tongue, which slipped through the noose, and the dog started for the house. There is no teling how the affair might have ended but for the presence of mind of Sanchez, who managed to rope the new thoroughly frightened canine by the hind leg and stopped him in his mad career. Del Valle them took another throw and caught the dog by the head, which effectually secured him, and the multitude breathed easier. The dog was then put in a room with a bucket of water, and as he showed no aversion to the field, but rather tried to drink it all, it was concluded that the dog was all right, and Del Valle and Sanchez were voted the heroes of the hour. of the best exhibitions of horsemanship

Twine Again Tied Up.

C. H. Twine was making himself very obnoxious about the polls on East Fifth street, threatening to shoot the heads off of several people, if he could only get a gun when Sergeant Davis appeared or the scene and took the loud-mouthed darkey in.

Mr. Munday, of counsel for Young, made a strong plea for his client to have him sent too the Fresno County Jail. He felt that the Government had been vindicated, and asked the Court be consent to his request.

reodered. He felt that the Government had been vindicated, and asked the Court to consent to his request.

The Judge made very few comments in sentencing Young, who received the sentence with a considerable amount of fortistide, aithough he was extremely pale and evidently suffering.

Deputy United States Marshal Tom-Hayes started with his prisoner for Fresno county at 1:80 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No steps were taken yesterday in regard to the indictment against Eil B. Davis, upon whose testimony Young was mainly found guilty. The conviction of Young will have great influence in the decision of the civil suit brought by the Government, and how pending, for the confiscation of the entire property of the Fruitvale Wine and Fruit Ompany. It is probable also that the directors of the company, who were shown by the evidence to be as guilty as Young, will be obliged to tee the mark.

CLYMER VS. CLYMER.

Two Incompatible Hearts Sepa Two Incompatible Hearts Separated
The divorce case of Mary Belle Clymer against her husband, J. M. Clymer, was concluded before Judge Clarke yesterday, a decree being granted. As stated several days ago, when the trial was begun, it was a result of the several days ago, when the trial was begun, it was a case in which the plaintiff accused the defendant of extreme cruelty. The allegations were of systematic abuse by the husband, which brought about in time a resist band, which brought about in time a resist ance on the part of the wife, and the evi dence disclosed a series of distressing quar-rels, which drew into the affair several o the neighbors and a mother-in-law. The husband threw all the blame on his wife, claiming that she was a capricious, jealous and vulgar woman. The wife recites intolerable abuse by her "hubby," including cursing, blows and adultery, and neither can see a scintilla of good in the other.

Tan Players Fined.

All of the Chinese fan-tan players arrested a few nights ago were brought before Just-tee Austin yesterday, when four of them pleaded gulity, paid their fines and were discharged. The remaining two, Ah Hing and Ah Sing, pleaded not gulity, when their cases were set for trial and ball fixed. The heathens did not put up their ball, and were taken down to the City Prison to await the arrival of bondsmen. They were kept locked up for a while, and as no one showed up to put up bonds for them, they asked to be taken into court again, when they withdrew their plea of not gulity; pleaded gulity, paid their fines, and were released. The play was a peculiar one on the part of the Chinese, as they generally know what line their bosses intend to pursue, and caused some little comment at police headquarters.

A Political "Dispute."
Yesterday morning a man named Noah Hicks came very near having the whole side of his face knocked off with an ax handle, in the hands of J. M. Collins. The two men were talking politics on San Fernando street, when Hicks asked Collins to vote for Mayor Bryson. Collins took exceptions to this, when some words ensued, and he struck Hicks a heavy blow on the arm with his ax handle, and followed it up with another lick on the side of the face, laying open his juw. He was stopped before any further damage was done, but Hick Walsh had considerable trouble in the side of the face, had made arrest, as be had a knife and thirstened to use it on anyone who interfered. Collins was taken before Justice Anstin yesterday afternoon and held to answer the charge of assault. A Political "Dispute."

Man With a Record Back In Omahs—Smoothy No. 3 Gone In the Track of the Illustrions G.

William L. Lewis, commonly known as "Doo" Lawis, the liveryman, has left Los Angeles and a number of confiding friends to meurn his loss. Lewis came to this city some four years ago and succeeded in getting into the livery-stable business on Spring street. He cut quite a swell, and was looked upon as "one of the boys" and a jelly good reliew until some one got it into his head to look up his record.

the following brief sketch of "Doc's" doings in that city:

"THE MISSING MAN.

"WILLIAM LEWIS TURNS UP AT LOS ANGELES, CAL.

"For some time it has been quietly known among the friends of William L. Lewis that that gentleman had left Omaha under rather peculiar circumstances, taking with him his wife and family.

"The circumstances surrounding his departure have been kept very quiet, and no extensive publicity has been given them for various reasons. A quiet search for him has been kept up, which has, until recently, failed utterly in locating him.

"Lewis came to this city a few years ago and made a large circle of triends, who imposed in him unlimited confidence. He first went into the express business and afterwards owned a fine livery stable on St. Mary's ayenne. All went smoothly for the first few years, until Lewis took to gambling. This led naturally to the lengths of dissipation in which wine, cards and women are prominent elements. He became very dissolute and is said to have gambled heavily, until during the last few months of his stay in this city he became known as a professional gambler. He had a wife and daughter, a young lady about 29 years of age, an accomplished girl, and popular among Omaha young people. His wife and daughter were very much grieved over the course of the father and husband, and during his excesses were nearly heart-broken over the course he was going.

"About four months ago Lewis suddenly left the city, taking with him his wife and daughter. He has left in this city debts to the amount of about $5000. Some of his creditors are among the best known business men and bankers of this city. He want west, and for a long time his whereabouts were not known. He has since been located in Los Angeles, Cal., where he is said to be living a retormed life. It is probable that no effort will be made to bring him back."

Lewis left this city about two weeks ago, and on the eve of his departure gave out that he was going to his "big stock ranch" in Washington Territory. He was very careful no

THE W. H. PERKY

How he ever managed to "get into" his reddiors so heavily they don't know or won't say, but it is very certain that he was ust a little too "smooth" for them, and there are quite a number who are cold-blooded enough to give him the nickname of "Smoothy No. 3."

He made quite a number of friends here, who will be greatly surprised to learn that he has played them false.

HAPPENINGS IN THE SUBURBS.

UNIVERSITY PLACE, Feb. 15.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The people of University Place are wishing that the suggestions of THE TIMES regarding unused land might be put into force at Agricultural Park, which is becoming a decided nuisance in the community. At the time of races our streets are used for fast and disorderly driving. Two runaways, resulting in the upsetting of carriages, have recently occurred, the parties in both cases being under the influence of liquor.

Guerrero-Marques
A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday morning, the 18th inst, at the Church of Our Lady of Los Angeles, Ray. P. Verdaguer officiating. The contracting parties were J. D. Guerrero of this city and Miss G. R. Marques of San Francisco.

After the ceremony the newly-married nouple took the train for the southern part of the State, where they propose to spend their honeymoon.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

West Los Angeles.

The march of improvement in this direction continues in spite of the full times. The west end of Washington street, now named the National Boulevard, has been widened and graded from the city limits to the city car stables, and will be continued probably further west to make the machdesired boulevard to the Soldiers' Home at Santa Monica.

The parents of Prof. Weaver have just purchased and taken possession of the house on Hellman street, formerly occupied by the Rev. Mr. Colburn.

Religious meetings have been held at the church every evening this week under the direction of Dr. Warner, assisted by Presidents Bovard, Dean Matthew and Prof. Coe.

A peculiar case of truancy has just been discovered at the University Seminary. A young lady, who lives at a distance from the University, has been regularly brought thither in the morning by her father for the last six weeks, but as regularly has waited till her parents were out of sight, and then slipped into the city and spent her time with a female friend. She is said not even to have registered or attended a class since the beginning of this term. VERMONT AVENUE.

This thoroughfare could be made one of the best streets outside of the city, if property-owners would show similar enterprise as has been displayed by their Washington-street neighbors in widening and grading the avenue. The rapid and regular service of the double-track street car company, which is now the best in the city, makes this locality a very desirable one for residents doing business in town. A project was on foot some time ago to accomplish this end, but for some reason has been allowed to slumber. The time will soon come when this improvement will be more difficult to carry out, as buildings are springing up thickly on both sides, from the Maitland (formerly known as Park) station to Washington street. It would well repay property owners to springing up thickly on both sides, from the Maitland (formerly known as Park) station to Washington street. It would well repay property owners to lay good sidewalks from the car termina to Maitland depot, and to trim the hedges and pepper trees, with which Vermont avenue so much abounds. The residents have easy access to the famous Santa Monica beach, by way of the Maitland depot, and it would be much to their advantage if good sidewalks were laid and the avenue widened and graded. It will not be long before Vermont avenue property will be as valuable as that on Figueroa street, and have the advantage of it in having a railway depot at one end and the double-track cable service at the junction of Washington street. The railway and street-car corporations see the future of this locality, but few of the residents do at present.

Near the corner of Vermont avenue and Freeman street are some fine residences recently erected. The latest is one built for Mr. Humeston, coating $10,000, which is rapidly approaching completion.

A new postoffice has just been establabed at the corner of Vermont avenue and Washington streets, and is known as Station R. The postmaster is Mr. Marshall, who has opened a grocery store. The other postoffice, Station C, is at the cornerof Hoover and Washington streets, at the drugstore. Other stores, business establishments and residences have also been erected around the atreet-car stables, and shows the rapid strides made in this direction during the past few months. Following in the track of these improvements comes Tris Times, where it has many subscribers, who are now served by Mr. Charles A. Widd, son of Prof. T. Widd, who resides on Vermont avenue. This young gentleman is determined to see that the paper of at Station R will receive pompt at the income may leave orders for it with him. A postal card addressed to him at either the office of the paper or at Station R will receive pompt at tentor.

ANY ONE which was inished and occupied only last September, is well filled with diliting ent students, who number between 200 and 250, and are taught by seven teachers. This will give some idea of the rapid progress made in this favorite locality, when it is known that about a year or two ago asmall cottage and one or two teachers were sufficient to instruct the rising generation. The commissioners of this excellent school have acted wasely in erecting such a large and handsome building to meet future requirements.

In consequence of the rapid growth of population in this locality, more churches are needed. A'small one is being erected on Freeman street and another on Washington street, near Hoever. The Episcopalians would hall one in this locality with pleasure. The nearest church of this denomination is St. Paul's, on Olivestreet, which is always filled to its utmost capacity. The pastor of St. Paul's, Rev. Elis Birdsall, should see if he could not start a small mussion church here. It would rapidly expand under the fostering care of this indefatigable clergyman, and he would receive every help and encouragement from the Episcopal residents.

Mrs. Chapin, wife of Rev. W. Chapin, formerly a missionary in China, has been for years a most active Christian worker in this locality. She watches over the welfare of the children of her neighbors with motherly tenderness, encouraging them to attend Sabbathschools, and forming Bands of Hope, until now, when the numbers of her proteges have so increased as to almost appall her. This Christian lady deserves all the respect and esteem with which she is held by the residents, and should receive every encouragement and help in her good work.

A good many people here have begun raising poultry, and they will soon have enough to supply the city inarkets. and the importation of eastern birds and eggs will not be necessary. It is wonderful how some of them have succeeded in raising chicks by incubators, notably Mr. Shaw, at the corner of Adams street and Vermont avenue, after so many f

This has been demonstrated in thousands of onses treated by D.R. W. I. L.I. A.M.S.

With his new system of medicated inhalations, also the oxygen and compound oxygen treatment, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, atomach, blood etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universall successful as that induced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarra, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

By the employment of proper inhalation in ANOTHER member of the celebrated 'bonanza firm'' is dead. James C. Flood, who died at Heidelberg yesterday, survived his partner, O'Brien nearly eleven years. The ex-saloon-keepers and later leaders in wholesale stock gambling acquired great wealth to themselves, made a very few people rich, and ruined thousands. That they ever did the State any particular serv ice is not very apparent. The possession of great wealth is, however, a sufficient distinction nowadays in these United States, and insures its possessor from any too searching inquiry as to the method of its acquirement, or the use that is made of it. THE Trombone of yesterday published a long and important dispatch from Indianapolis, containing the aweinspiring information that Gen. Harrison had fallen on the ice, becoming covered from head to foot with snow and ice, partly melted. The dispatch adds: "It was brushed off, and a dark stain was left upon his clothing." This is really awful. The question for the people to consider now is whether this stain will disqualify Gen. Harrison for the Presidency. A man named Woods had the distinguished honor of assisting the President-elect to his feet. Mr. Woods will doubtles; at once make application for a consulship. Some of the press agents at Indianapolis are excelling themselves in the Jenkins line.

Or course every one in Los Angele who keeps himself informed of what is going on, knows that the Cactus is a disreputable, blackmailing sheet. is, however, not every day that so neat a proof of that publication's true character is obtainable as that which we print today in THE TIMES. So clear is the proof that the despicable proprie tor, foreseeing exposure, acknowle his villainy in his own paper, and tried to carry it off by glorying in his shame It has become an acknowledged axion among decent people in Los Angeles that an indorsement from the Cactus is a disgrace, while its enmity is one of the best indorsements which a man can have. It is charitable to suppose that interior journals, which occas ally bestow upon this sheet a more or less favorable notice, are ignorant of its true character.

THERE is very little doubt that the following is a correct list of the sucessful candidates, the same being the Republican ticket: Mayor, Henry T. Hazard; City Clerk, Freeman G. Teed; City Attorney, Charles McFarland; Treasurer, M. D. Johnson; Auditor, Frank E. Lopez; Tax Collector, Len. f. Thompson; City Engineer, Fred Enton; Superintendent of Streets, W. E. Morford; Assessor, John Fischer; Police Judges, Lewis Stanton and M. T. Owens; Members of the Council, T. Owens, Members of the Council, H. V. Var Duzen, Geo. P. McLain, W. H. Boasall, J. Frankenfield, A. C. Shafer, A. N. Hamilton, James T. Brown, Theo. Summerland, R. E. Wirsching, Members of Board of Edu-cation, E. J. Cox, J. M. Frew, A. E. Pomerov, F. C. Woodbury, Chas. J. y, F. C. Woodbury, Chas. J. V. P. McIntosh, J. J. Gosper, R.

It Was a Glorious Victory.

As we go to press we are able to con gratulate our readers on a brilliant Republican victory, all along the line. Hazard is undoubtedly elected, by a majority over both his opponents. In several Democratic precincts he secured a large majority over both Bryson and Toberman. It also ap pears almost certain that the Republicans have made a clean sweep of the whole ticket.

This is most satisfactory and encouraging. Los Angeles has done herself credit and has once more established the truth of what was shown at the county election-that this city and county are overwhelm ingly Republican. In face of the tendency of Republicans to sink party issues in municipal affairs, and of the presence of a third ticket, the result proves conclusively that, upon a fair test, the citizens of Los Angeles are willing to entrust the affairs of the city to a Republican administration.

The result is also a reproof to the reckless expenditure which has marked the short course of the present Demo cratic administration, and to the manner in which illegal practices have been winked at.

The result may be taken as a proof that no side issues, in the shape of a Citizens' or Prohibition movement, or otherwise, can injure the Republican party when it is true to itself; and that the party is strongest when it ignores all such side issues, and marches straight forward on its chosen course. At the same the confidence which has been bestowed upon the party carries with it a large measure of responsibility, not only to its own adherents, but to the public; a responsibility which we are sure the party will not attempt to shirk.

We congratulate the Republican can didates and all good citizens, irrespective of party, on the result. We predict with confidence an administration which shall combine economy with enterprise, and a good moral government with liberality and common sense.

The voters did a good day's work yesterday. The result of the election is worth a million dollars to the Angel

There never were fairer days than have fallen to this section since the opening of the new year. But two or three cloudy days have visited us, and the general temperature has been conducive to the greatest degree of phys ical comfort and good health. A winter in Southern California with such climatic surroundings brings more enjoyment and good healthy vitality than could be realized from many winters in the more inclement portions of the country. It is life with the most favorable natural surroundings that are possible to exist, and one which, if its excellence were fully known, would bring to this locality a hundred where

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—The second and final performance of The Mountebank was witnessed last evening by an enthusiastic audience, and the largest of the week.

Mr. Warde's impersonation of the charac-ter of "Belphegor" is the most versatile of any he has so far produced. The scene where "Belphegor" is searching for his lost wife, and with his son "Henri" comes unwife, and with his son "Henri" comes un-expectedly upon a party of merry-makers at the house of "Madamoiselle Flora," gives opportunity for one of the greatest bits of acting in any dramatic representa-tion. It is needless to say that Mr. Warde fully appreciates the situation, and sur-passes himself in counterfeiting the humor of the mountebank while suffering from the pangs of hunger and the misery of de-spair.

Miss Belgarde as "Madaleine" carries Miss Belgarde as "Madaleine" carries with her the synapsthy of the audience in her great trial between her duty to her husband and her love for her child.

Miss Stella Bontface makes considerable of the character of "Mile. Flora," the danseuse. Little Gertle McGill as "Henri" gives promise of great ability.

Second, "Cutting Out," which means separating individual members of the herd for the purpose of branding or proving ownership by the brand; third, bringing in straggiers, fourth, lassoing and tying; fifth, how branding is done; sixth, the ghostly bull riders, one of the practical jokes of the plains. Part second will consist of riding untamed broncos, fancy work with the lasso, rope or riata, special feats of horsemanship, picking up objects from the ground while riding at a full gallop, etc.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The Tariff Reform league met again this morning. After some discussion it was decided to appoint a committee of nine on the propagandism of the principles announced yesterday.

Mr. Bowker of New York offered the following, which was loudly applauded and adopted by a rising vote:

"We honor President Cleveland for his brave, manly and statesmanlike course in making tariff reform the Issue before the people. We see in the increased popular majority which that issue won for him, and the increase of his vote in the industrial centers an assurance of the early triumph of 'the people's cause' and we pledge ourselves to increased agitation until that triumph is won."

Several speeches were made against the tariff on tin plate.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The Democratic members of the House held a caucus tonight to consider onue bills. Messrs. Cox, Mills and were absent, as well as many Crain offered Randall's substitute for the Cowies bill with the free list of the Senate bill, as an opportune meas-ure. He estimated that it would reduce the back on its own free list and could not af ford to oppose the repeal of the tobacco

Mr. Bynum offered a resolution that the caucus mandate should be binding and that it should now adjourn to meet again on Saturday.

Mr. Barnes of Georgia was anxious to reach a compromise. If the Mills Bill could not pass he favored the Forney Bill, and would go further than Crain and add all the reductions made by the Senate bill.

Randali said he was looking ahead to the struggle that must soon follow in the future, and that would result in again bringing the party into power. There was no use of brooding over the past. The Cowles Bill had been kept a month in committee, and was not taken up until all its other work was finished. He was opposed to longer delay. The caucus might appoint a committee as proposed by Mr. Buckalew, to report a feasible position, but they would not hereby be deterred from trying to repeal the tobacco tax.

Mr. C'Relli of Missouri said, he stood by Mr. Cowles said he was tired of quibbling.

Mr. Cowles said he was tired of quibbling, and talked plainly about the procrastination of the Ways and Means Committee, and how they had put him off time and again when he begged them to report the tobacco bill one way or the other.

Messrs. Scott of Pennsylvania and Breckniridge of Kentucky earnestly defended the Ways and Means Committee, and charged that the Randail Bill was a divorcement of the twe wings of the party, and warmly protested against the severance of the tariff and revenue features of the Mills Bill.

Mr. Compton of Maryland said it was evident that the Republicans wanted the House to adjourn without cutting off the tobacco tax, when they would call a special session of Congress and pass such a bill within the next sixty days. It would not be wise to allow the Democratic party to be weakened in this way.

Mr. Vance of Connecticut wanted the whole tobacco tax repeated.

Mr. Vance of Connecticut wanted the rhole tobacco tax repealed.
Mr. Ramdall insisted on consideration of a till. In answer to Mr. Breckinridge he aid he was endeavoring to facilitate condenation of the bill to repeal the tobacco tax, and would not agree to abide by the ecision of the majority of the caucus. He ad reason to believe that two Democratic embers of the Committee on Eules would tree to report back the resolution introduct by him today, and the Spe ker had one all in his power to secure consideration of the matter during the session.

Randali replied that the committee had examined into the contracts, and knew that the estimate of the department could be cut down one-half without inconvenience to the public service. It had been shown that there had been gross extravarance in the expenditure for furniture.

After further debate the amendment was rejected, and without completing the bill the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Formed at Last.
CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The proposition to perfect the organization of the Interstate Commerce Railway Association with the lines that have signed the President's agreement, instead of laboring further with the companies refusing to sign, was carried today, and the association is now a fact. The Wisconsin Central for some unknown reason, changed front and signed today. The Burlington and Northern gave its final answer to the effect that it could not become a member unless its northern, and principal competitors on seaport traffic were also taken in.

The committee on changes in agreement made no alterations, except to strike out the proviso in regard to the number of signatures necessary, and recommended that the agreement be adopted as it stood. An united discussion followed in which President Adams of the Ution Pacific sharply criticised the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, which was holding back, and also the Burlington and Northern. He introduced a resolution that the movement then and there be abandoned, as it had been found impossible to carry it to success, owing to the obstructions placed in the way by the two roads named.

This caused a sensation, and President Miler of the St. Paul sharply retorted.

After further discussion fur. Adams withdrew the resolution and anologized to Mr. Miller.

At the afternoon session the objectors were finally brought into line, and the agreement signed, with the understanding that it becomes effective immediately. The four roads in the agreement are the illinois Gentral, Chicago, Burlington and Northern, Ransss City, Ft. Scott and Memphis and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas. The details of the agreement were not completed this evening. A committee was appointed to confer with Interstate Commerce Commissioner Walker and ascertain if he will accept the clairmanship.

The Witness Goes to Pieces on Cross-Examination.

Parliament Opened-The Opposition More Active Than Ever.

A New French Cabinet Assounced—Boulange Predicts That It Will Speedily Go to Places—Germany New Claims Kieln for Her Own—Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

London, Feb. 21.— By Cable and the Associated Press. Pigott was again on the stand in the Parriell case today. He testified that he had interviews with Eugene Davis at Lausanne in January, 1886, and pretended that he (Pigoti) was wanted to write a pampilet on the league, and desired to embody signed documents. Davis declined to furnish the documents, saying that the Fenian Brotherhood was bound to Parnell not to interfere with his plans till after a certain time. to Parnell not to interfere with his plans till after a certain time. Finally Davis, for £1000, furnished witness the principal facts, with the understanding that they were to be written, but not published till a certain time. Witness at once wrote cut this information and gave it to Houston. This was the statement read yeaterday. Subsequently in Paris a man mamed Morris for £500 furnished witness the documents which he had failed to get from Davis. They were in a bag, and consisted of five or six of Egan's letters, some or Parnell's and some old accounts. Witness read the letters and made a memorandum, but did not copy them.

Pigott here identified six letters of Egan's and five of Parnell'a, including a letter which appeared in the Times, and scraps of accounts produced in court as contents of the bag.

of accounts produced in court as contents of the bag.

Pigott said he did not know Parnell's writing when he looked at the bag. He knew his signature. He believed the signatures attached to the letters to be those of Parnell. He had no idea as to who wrote the body of the letters. Witness returned to France April 20, 1886, and told. Marphy he would accept his offer. After a long discussion, Marphy told witness it would be uttarly impossible to obtain the letters unless the witness went to New York. Witness the witness went to New York. There he saw Bresiin, to whom Aurphy had given him a letter. Bresiin handed witness was to deliver to Murphy in Paris.

said witness was to deliver to Murphy in Paris.

Witness continued: "I refurned to London and told Houston what had occurred. He believed the letter contained authority to deliver the bag. I went to Paris July 10th, and saw Murphy at the Hotel St. Petersburg. I handed him the letter. He said it was all right, but he could not give me the letters until he had seen other people. Two evenings later Murphy took me to a cafe in the Rue St. Honore. He conducted me to a private room, where five men, he said, represented the Clanna-Gael. He made me swear on the Catholic prayer-book that under no circumstances would I reveal the source from which I obtained the decuments. I also swore I would not mention the names, and if any proceedings followed the publication of the letters I would not testify."

PIGOTT GETS MORE LETTERS.

PIGOTT GETS MORE LETTERS. mess detailed the purchase of the let-and Murphy's offer to purchase the letirs. Witness knew Egan's writing and grature, and was convinced that Egan rote the letters ascribed to him. Murphy as displeased with the relusal to return was displeased with the refusal to return the letters.

Pigott, resuming, said he first heard of the existence of other letters at the beginning of 1888. His informant was Thomas Brown, a member of the Clanna-Gael. Hayes introduced Brown and witness in the Café Royal, Rue Sc. Honore, Paris. Brown produced the letters, and witness sent to Houston copies of two of Parasell's and one of Egan's. Pigott had not the sightest doubt the signatures were genuine. In July, 1886, he heard of other letters. A person in Paris, who declined to reveal his name, offered to surrender them for £500. He was paid £300, of which witness received £50 back.

Pigott continued: "A man named O'Brien visited me in Dublin under the alias of Sinclair. He said Parnell had sent him to try to get me to assist Egan. Labouchere, he said, was acting for Egan, and would pay me a very high price if I had any letters of Parnell's to sell. Sinclair suggested that I should see Labouchere in London, and gave me £5 with which to pay my passage. I went to the place mentioued, but Labouchere was not there. I declined to hold conversation with Sinclair. I afterwards wrote to Labouchere without Sinclair's knowledge. Labouchere replied, and I had an interview with Parnell and Labouchere knowledge. Labouchere replied, and I had an interview with Parmell and Labouchere at the latter's house."

PARNELL CHARGES FORGERY.

Continuing, Pigott said that at the meet-ing referred to Paruell told him that he ing referred to Paruell told him that he held prims facte evidence that witness had forged the letters. Lewis entered during the interview, and said if witness followed the directions he would be his best friend, but if he failed he (Lewis) would prosecute him marcliessly for perjury and forgery. Afterward witness saw Labouchere alone outside of the room, when Labouchere said he was prepared to nay £1000, but that the money matters mast not be mentioned to Paruell. Witness induced Laboughere to think that he would accede to his proposal, but on retarming to the room he said that nothing would induce him to swear that the letters were forgeries. Lewis asked witness to write to the Times that he (witness) believed the letters to be forgeries, when the Times would withdraw the letters.

On the following day witness asked whether Labouchere's offer would bold good if witness induced the Times to withdraw the lettere. Lewis said, "Yes." On the day after witness accidentally met Parmell and Lewis. The latter denied that he had given witness any assurance. Parnell's manner was threatening. He reiterated that witness had forced the letters, and also accused him of having committed mercantile forgeries. Witness denied the allegations.

LABOUCHERE TAKES A HAND. Atty.-Gen. Webster read a long correspondence between Pigott and Lewis. In his letters Lewis averred that he and his associates were aware that Pigott was a forger before they saw him. He suggested that Pigott meet Parnell again. Pigott replied that he was prepared to meet any proceedings, and declined to meet Parnell again.

plied that he was prepared to meet any proceedings, and declined to meet Parnell again.

Witness, continuing, said that Labouchere repeatedly wrote to him in Dublin, pressing him to teatify and offering to pay his passage. At the end of January he received a letter containing 210. He was anxious to avoid testifying. He was aware it was dangerous to offend the Clan-na-Gael, and he might, be murdered.

Sir Charles Russelleross-examined Pigott. He caused him to write several words which occurred in the letters. Pigott said he had corresponded with Forster trom 1881 to 1884. He wrote to Sir G. O. Travelyan asking for money of account of his suppart of the Government, but did not offer to furpish information. He denied in his statement to Lewis he said that the publication of the letters by the Times had alarmed him, and that he had, therefore, asked Archbishop Walsh's advice because he regarded the Archbishop as his confessor. He denied that he know that the articles on "Parnellism and Crime" were being prepared.

THE WITNESS GETS HATTLED.

Sir Charles Russell here produced a letter from Pikots to Archbishop Walsh dated March 4, 1887. In this letter Pigott told the Archbishop that he was aware that proceedings were contemplated with the object of destroying the Parnellites' influence in Parliament. All that he could indicate was that the proceedings would consist of the publication of statements tanding to those on the complete was that the proceedings would consist of the publication of statements tanding to those the complete was that the proceedings would consist of the publication of statements.

A RATTLED WITNESS. edge of these designs, and could indicate how they could be successfully combated

Sir Charles Russell pressed the witness to explain how these designs could have been defeated, if the letters were genuine. Pigcott repiled that he had not the slichtest recollection of writing anything of the kind. He could not have had the Parnell letters in mind when he wrote to the Archbishop; he must have been thinking of other charges, but he could not say what those charges were.

Sir Charles Russell then read a postcript to the letter, as follows: "I need hardly say that, did I consider the parties really guilty. I should not dream your Grace would partake in an effort to shield them. My only wish is to impress on your Grace that the evidence is apparently convincing, and probably sufficient to secure a conviction by an English jury."

Pigott reiterated that the Parnell letters were not in his mind when he wrote the postcript. He added that he never thought the letters in themselves contained serious charges. He asked for the Archbishop's reply, which Sir Charles Russell produced. Pigott, after inspecting the Archbishop's letter, said he believed that he never received it.

The Irish Question Pops Up at the Opening Session.

London, Feb. 21.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Parliament reassembled today. The speech from the throne reviews affairs in Egypt and India and says consent has been granted for a renewal of the conference, between Creat Egistic Carmany ference between Great Britain, German, and the United States on the Samoan question. It declares that the warlike preparation by other European nations, render necessary increased precautions by Graat Britghin for the safety of her shores and commerce, and giving notice that measures will be introduced for the development of material resources of Ireland and an amendment of the constitution of tribunals naving jurisdiction over real estate in freland. It also declares that recent legislation in freland for the restoration of order has produced good results, and says legislation will be necessary for the execution of the sugar convention. It amounces that measures will be introduced to remedy defects in the gold coinage, for the establishment of a department of agriculture, etc.

After reading the Queen's speech, John Morley gave notice that he would introduce an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the Throne, condemning the administration of law in Ireland as harsb, unjust and oppressive, and saking that measures be adopted to content the Irish and redstablish the real union of Great Britain and Ireland.

Gladstone was enthusiastically cheered by the epposition on entering the House. The ministerialists cheered Balfour, while the opposition hissed him and shouted "Pigott." Smith was similarly greeted. It is universally admitted that the session will be the fiercest on record. The Irish action of the Covernment will be vigilantly watched. This programme is approved by Gladstone. Gladstone, opening the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech, said he hoped the Government would enlighten the House regarding affairs in Samos and Zanzibar at the earliest possible moment. Remarking that the Government described their own armaments as "warlike preparations," Gladstone said that Parliament must be very exacting as regards the proof of the necessity for any unusual increase of credits of the firsh popole, he said the Government has rendered an elaborate Irish debate in evitable by inserting a sentence in the address implying approval of their Irish policy, which was totally at variance with the views of the opposi

NOTABLE PRATURES—It contains a business review of the year, embracing a great mass of valuable facts bearing on the city and country; a thorough exposition of ear matural resources—mineral, vegetable, commercial and climatic; a review of the rise ? d wogress of the boom, with solid proofs that the country is now in better condition than it us a during the height of the real-estate excisement; a charafuly complied exposition of the varied inducements which Southern California offers to the health-scaker, the home provided and the tourist, besides a number of interesting and valuable special articles on provided into a subject. It contains more solid information about the country than could be errow ded into the compass of a hundred long letters, and for a few cents and the expenditure of a few minutes time in writing the address you can send a friend more information it wan you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a dollar you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a dollar you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a dollar you can supply ten families in the frozen Bast with information that may lead them it you had all the facts at hand. LONG TERMS.

A Couple of Young Toughs That Will Be Kept Out of Mischief. Brown and James Denman, a couple of youthful toughs, to long terms in the County Jail, the first going up for 300 days and the latter for 500. The young vaga-bonds are at present serving sentences for vagrancy, and the additional time will keep them out of mischief for some time to come. Denman is an especially hard char-acter, and has figured in numerous cases of acter, and has figured in numerous cases of petty larceny, etc., but has always managed to get out of serious trouble before the inferior courts. The case for which they were sentenced yesterday was a peculiarly aggravated one. Some time ago they wont into a shop on Los Angeles street and stole a watch out of the pocket of a vest that was hanging on the wall. The owner of the watch saw the theft and gave chase, and when they saw that they were about to be overtaken they throw the watch away, turned on their pursuer and gave him a beating. They were detained, however, until some men in the neighborhood came up, when they were taken into custody and turned over to the authorities.

It is the general belief that very little can be done for ringing in the ears and catarrhal deafness. I make a sintement of my case through gratitude to the dectors, as well as for the benefit of any who are troubled as I was. I was for a long time afflicted with ringing in the ears which made life a burden, and my hearing was failing so rapidly that I feared very much that I would soon become entirely deaf. The roaring, ringing and whisting wore sometimes se great that I would be unable to sleep at night.

Everal friends recommended me to consult Dra. Davis & Blakesleee, 45% North Spring street, saying they would not undertake my case unless certain they could effect a cure. After they had examined me and promised a favorable result from their treatment my thankfu ness was unbounded.

I received such benefit from the first treatment that I felt confident I would be cured and in two weeks' time, thanks to the Dootor and a merciful Prov dence, the noises were gone, and the hearing was sortirely restored. The above will be verified by calling upon me it 238 North Forf street. George M. Craig.

The above is but one of the many testimonials Dra. Davis & Blakeslee have on file at their offices, 45% North Spring street. Hereafter a new one will be published every week, and we will endeavor to coavince the most akeptical that many socalled incurable disease can be cured. They tell not what they can do, but what they have done and if any one doubts their ability they invite an investigation, as every one whose name is used can be interviewed.
